NOTE:

It is possible that the boot/terminal assemblies fitted to the cables supplied do not resemble the original or replacement ignition cables you are replacing. The reason for this is that we have found (after 16 years experience) that the design and construction used for some original and replacement ignition cables is inherently unreliable (the reason you are replacing them), and we do not want to make the same mistake with a design that we know will inevitably fail... particularly with our name on it!
